Allowable Subject Matter

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Applicant admitted prior art discloses a method for handling an interrupt request in an optical storage drive when the optical storage drive executes a control procedure or operation, the method comprising: utilizing the optical storage drive to receive an interrupt request from a control circuit (see [0005], Fig. 1) after execution of the control procedure or operation has begun; when the interrupt request is a read command, checking whether data indicated by the read command is stored in a buffer (see Figs. 1-2 and there descriptions); and when the indicated data is stored in the buffer, transferring the corresponding data to the control circuit from the buffer to respond to the interrupt request (see Figs. 1-2 and their descriptions).

Minami et al. (US 6,331,966) discloses a method for handling an interrupt request in an optical storage drive when the optical storage drive executes a control procedure or operation, the method comprising: utilizing the optical storage drive to receive an interrupt request from a control circuit after execution of the control procedure or operation has begun; transferring the corresponding data to the control circuit from the buffer to respond to the interrupt request in parallel with the execution of the control procedure or operation (col. 10, the seeking control can be simultaneously executed in parallel with the writing access or reading access in response to an upper command by the MPU 12).

None of the references cited in the record disclose or suggest the a method that checking whether the interrupt request corresponds to a read command; and when the interrupt request corresponds to a read command, checking whether data indicated by the read command is stored in a buffer.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
